WARM WEATHER WORRIES SOFT COAL MINERS

EVERY MINE IN THE ILLINOIS, INDIANA FIELD MAY CLOSE

MORE MINES SHUT DOWN IN ILLINOIS IN 6 MONTHS THAN ANY PREVIOUS PERIOD

CARS LOADED AND LEFT STANDING ON SIDINGS, COAL DEMAND SLACKENED

(By United Press)
Chicago, Nov. 24.—Every coal mine in the bituminous fields of Illinois and Indiana face either complete or partial shut-down because of the late arrival of winter to the middlewest, F. C. Honnold, statistician for the bituminous operators' association, announced here today.

More mines have been closed in Illinois during the last six months than in any previous period in the history of mining in this state, Honnold declared.

"Every day scores of cars are loaded at the mines still operating and then left standing on sidings and switch-tracks."

Extreme scarcity of demand is responsible for the condition, Honnold said, pointing to the fact that consumption was very much under the average for this season due to continued warm weather over most sections of the middle west.

I DEAD, I WOUNDED IN STREET BRAWL

(By United Press)
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—One man was dead today and a woman was wounded following a brawl in which an unidentified man crazed with liquor, pulled a gun and fired three shots at Harvey Bell, 37, a decorator.

The assailant fled into an alley and escaped.

A hundred pedestrians witnessed the killing. Three shots were fired, the second of which penetrated the brain of Mr. Bell. The first shot struck Mrs. Shabra Frank, 48, in the foot. The third shot fired was at Bell's body lying on the sidewalk.

The two men had engaged in an argument. Blows were exchanged and then the unidentified man carrying a revolver started to run, followed by Bell. The man suddenly turned and fired and then escaped.

MINNEAPOLIS GAS RATE IS CUT TO $1 BEGINNING JAN. 1

Minneapolis, Nov. 24.—The price of gas will go down 1 cent a thousand cubic feet for the four month period, beginning Jan. 1. The new rate will be $1. The reduction is based on the lowered cost of producing gas in the period from July 1 to Oct. 31, of which a report was filed today with the city clerk by receivers for the company.

Harold Sundal Champion Junior Corn Grower

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Nov. 24.—Harold Sundal, 16, Farmington, is the champion junior corn grower of Minnesota.

He raised 119 bushels of matured Minnesota No. 13 dent on one acre of his dad's farm near Farmington. From it he realized a profit of $79.35. The average yield per acre in Minnesota is 37.7 bushels.

Harold won first prize in the boys' and girls' corn club competition in which 200 boys and girls were entered. He will get a free trip to the international livestock exposition at Chicago the first of next month.

Pual Palmer, Excelsior, was second, Marvin Hermanson, Boyd was third, Durven Hermanson, Boyd, was fourth, Howard Sanborn, Faribault, fifth and Arthur Immer of J. E. Eers was sixth.

Durven Hermanson was the first prize in the competition on five acres, producing 48.1 bushels of corn. He will receive a free trip to the Minnesota state fair next year.

ST. PAUL PAPERS DROP SAFFORD LIBEL SUIT; RETRACTION IS MADE

St. Paul, Nov. 24.—Announcement has been made by the St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press that the newspapers had dismissed their suit for $50,000 damages for slander against Rev. George B. Safford, superintendent of the Minnesota Anti-Saloon league.

The suit was filed in Minneapolis a month ago following an assertion by Reverend Safford that the newspapers were controlled by a large brewing company. It was stated that Reverend Safford had retracted the statement in the "American Issue," an Anti-Saloon league periodical.

MAGNUS AND LODGE

MEET; ALL'S WELL

HENRY CABOT FAILS TO DROP DEAD WHEN HE GREETS NEW MINNESOTA SENATOR

Washington, Nov. 24.—Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, plain farmer, and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, New England aristocrat, met for the first time yesterday. No blows were exchanged nor were there any heated words.

The introduction of the Minnesota senator to the Massachusetts senator was made by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah. Smoot is genial, and he made it a point to meet Senator Johnson and take him to Senator Lodge's office. The three remained together probably 15 minutes.

At the conclusion of the visit, Senator Johnson did not use the term, "Henry Cabot," which was the way he referred to Senator Lodge in his campaign speeches and private utterances prior to his election.

"Mr. Lodge is a pretty nice fellow," said Senator Johnson. "So is Smoot. In fact, all the fellows I have met here are pretty nice."

Senator Henrik Shipstead did some department work today but he said he hadn't really started his senatorial life as yet.

SCHOOL FOR THE NEW CONGRESSMEN

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 24.—New congressmen have been invited "to go to school" Nov. 30.

William Tyler Page, clerk of the house, has called this meeting. At it, he will answer questions on the house proceedings, as for instance:

How to go about drawing one's pay.

What it means for the house to "go into committee of the whole."

What all those jangling bells in the house office building are for.

And a lot of other things including an explanation of house rules.

FORD MAY RUN ON INDEPENDENT TICKET, CLAIMED

(By United Press)
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—Henry Ford will be a presidential candidate if he can run on an independent ticket and is not bound by any platform, Robert R. Pointer, friend of Ford, and one of the leaders of the Ford for president movement, declared today.

Pointer admitted Ford has not entered any objections to the movement to make him president.

Arrangements are now being made for the national convention of the Ford for president clubs at Dearborn, December 12th.

Ford will be nominated at the convention according to the present plans.

No platform, however, will be adopted, Pointer said.

KEYNOTE OF PRES. COOLIDGE'S NEW MESSAGE TO NATION

WILL TELL CONGRESS NOT TO DISTURB THE COUNTRY

CONFIDENCE, STABILITY, SECURITY MUST BE PRESERVED

LAWRENCE MARTIN (Copyright 1923 by United Press)

Washington, Nov. 24.—The keynote of President Coolidge's forthcoming message to congress will be: Don't do anything to disturb the country. It is the duty of congress to create and preserve the country's confidence, stability and sense of security.

This note will run throughout the recommendation which will cover a considerable range of subjects. The message is now virtually completed and President Coolidge expects to have printed copies of it several days before he presents it to congress.

Some headings of the message and the views to be expressed include:

Taxes
The condition of the government's finance and the outlook for the immediate future, make possible consideration of tax law revision with reduction in certain rates. This reduction must be made with a view to the government's needs, without prejudice or disturbance of business. The message will state how far Mr. Coolidge believes congress can go, but will not attempt unduly to limit its freedom of action.

Appropriations
This will be treated in a letter, but a reference to them in the regular message is also forecast. Mr. Coolidge will warn against making the country's prosperity the excuse for "pork barrel" appropriations, and will point out that such appropriations will not only defeat any effect of tax reduction, but will disturb business.

Veterans
The message probably will not refer to the soldier bonus directly but will cover care of disabled veterans.

Agriculture
Steps the nation has taken to help agriculture will be cited, notably the mission of Frank Mondell and Eugene Meyer to the west in the interest of co-operative marketing. Congress will be invited carefully to consider legislative suggestions made to it. Efforts of the agricultural department to work a plan for a "wheat port" to help wheat producers dispose of their surplus, will be cited.

Railroads
This problem will be treated as one of paramount importance and congress will be advised in effect not to try to solve it finally without the most careful consideration of every factor.

The forthcoming consolidation report of the interstate commerce commission will be referred to as important information to congress.

Muscle Shoals
This may be treated separately and specifically or in connection with farmer relief. The president intends to make clear without saying so directly that he favors disposing of Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford or anyone else who will do what Ford offers to do—produce cheap fertilizer.

Immigration
Here again the president will urge caution and full investigation before any policy is crystallized into permanent legislation. No immigration policy should be adopted, he will tell congress, which will act adversely on the country's industrial or economic scheme. He is expected to favor extension and modifications of the present law.

Foreign Affairs
Mr. Coolidge will point out the peaceful situation in which the United States finds itself and refer to efforts to bring American influence to bear for a world settlement through the Hughes' economic experts plan.

What he will say, if anything, on the world court plan now before the senate is a closely guarded secret.

TIA JUANA, MEXICO, FAMOUS RACE CENTER, IS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

San Diego, Nov. 24.—The entire town of Tia Juana, Mexico, just across the border from this city, was virtually wiped out by fire late yesterday, according to word received here.

The fire is said to have started in one of the cafes which line the main street of the town. Fanned by a high north wind, the flames spread to adjoining cafes and, according to the last word here, had destroyed virtually every building in the main street.

The race track owned by the Tia Juana Jockey club was said not to be in any imminent danger.

Hurried calls for fighting equipment were sent to Chula Vista, a suburb of this city, but the department there was unable to respond and another call was sent to San Diego.

Scores of families fled toward the international boundary, fearing that their homes would be destroyed.

STRAW VOTES OF PROHIBITION IN "DRY CAPITOL"

POLICY OF PASSIVE RESISTANCE ADOPTED BY ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

ALLEGED WET PROMOTERS BELIEVED TO HAVE PLACED BALLOT BOXES

(By United Press)

Westerville, Ohio, Nov. 24.—A policy of passive resistance was adopted by the Anti-Saloon league today toward the straw votes of prohibition being taken in the "dry capitol" by alleged wet promoters.

The league announced it would make no effort to remove the ballot boxes from the street but the campaign to discourage voting would continue.

The strong resentment was initiated by representatives of personal liberty associations. The Anti-Saloon league, whose national headquarters are here, protested, but the men who started the voting left town and it could not be learned about when the ballots would be counted.

Joe Larrimore, head of the league's publicity bureau, came down town today to see if there was any activity at the polls.

"There wasn't any voting while I was around," Larrimore said.

"But I shook one of the boxes and it seemed to have several ballots in it."

ONE POUND BABY DIED LAST NIGHT

GIVES UP FIGHT FOR LIFE WAGED FOR TWENTY DAYS

(By United Press)

Houston, Texas, Nov. 24.—After a twenty day fight for her life in which she astonished physicians by her remarkable vitality, Marie Rogers, one pound baby, died last night.

The fifteen year old mother, Mrs. C. A. Rogers, who has been ill for four months with typhoid malaria, is again in a critical condition from grief over the baby's death.

The American government is watching developments with the closest attention and the White House states that the United States would view a collapse of Germany with great concern.

EBERT RECEIVES DEPUTY KARDORFF
Berlin, Nov. 24.—President Ebert today requested Deputy Siegfried von Kardorff, a leader of the Deutsche Volkspartei, to endeavor to form a new cabinet. Kardorff immediately began conversations with party leaders.

GERMAN SHIP OF STATE WALLOWING RUDDERLES TODAY

PRESIDENT EBERT RESUMES DE-LIBERATIONS WITH PARTY LEADERS

HOPES SOMEHOW TO FIND WORKABLE COMBINATION FOR SUPPORT OF CABINET

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 24.—The German ship of state wallowed rudderless in a stormy political sea today as President Ebert resumed his deliberations with party leaders in the hope that somehow he will be able to find a workable combination for support of a cabinet.

The expected coup d'etat last night following resignation of the government of Chancellor Stresemann did not materialize.

It was not believed the new cabinet head would be announced before Monday and that the government would be entrusted to a right wing leader at that time.

Candidates for the chancellorship included Dr. Johannes von Hieber, state president at Wurtemberg, democratic party, and Dr. Heinrich Alberts, remembered for his exploits in the United States where he was attached to the German embassy during the early years of the war.

It was anticipated that General Von Seeckt would retain his post as national dictator, probably with stronger powers.

Stresemann's resignation late yesterday came after he had failed to retain support for his coalition cabinet in the face of strong demands, principally by the socialists. The chancellor demanded a "show down" on his policies and a vote of misconfidence followed, 239 to 135.

INVITES KARDORFF TO FORM CABINET

London, Nov. 24.—President Ebert has invited Herr Kardorff to form a new cabinet, a Central News dispatch from Berlin said today.

GERMAN SEPARATISTS PROCLAIM REPUBLIC

Mayence, Nov. 24.—The German separatist republic was proclaimed last night at Ludwigshafen, discharges said today, and the city hall, post office and prefecture were occupied without resistance from citizens loyal to the Reich.

In the meantime, 10,000 unemployed in Ludwigshafen district joined the separatists.

STRESEMANN'S FALL MAY MEAN DICTATOR

Washington, Nov. 24.—Fall of the Stresemann government in Germany means a change for the worse in the German situation, it was feared in authoritative quarters today.

France fears that a reactionary government will be formed in Germany that will refuse to attempt further reparations payments.

Quarters close to the German government believe that what will amount to a military dictatorship may follow Stresemann's fall.

The American government is watching developments with the closest attention and the White House states that the United States would view a collapse of Germany with great concern.

EBERT RECEIVES DEPUTY KARDORFF

Berlin, Nov. 24.—President Ebert today requested Deputy Siegfried von Kardorff, a leader of the Deutsche Volkspartei, to endeavor to form a new cabinet. Kardorff immediately began conversations with party leaders.

MINE WORKERS VOTE TO DISBAR MEMBERS BELONGING TO KLAN

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 24.—District No. 21, United Mine Workers of America, meeting here in biennial constitutional convention, went on record and incorporated in their constitution a provision to debar from membership in their organization any person holding membership in the Ku Klux Klan.

$1,500,000 CARGOES

WAIT ON RUM ROW

COASTGUARD REPORTS 11 VESSELS OFF N. J. HIGHLANDS AND LONG ISLAND

New York, Nov. 24.—Coast guard officials reported to customs authorities that 11 rum carrying ships were anchored in various spots off the highlands of New Jersey and the Long Island coast.

They estimated the combined cargoes of the vessels to be 30,000 cases with a retail bootleg value of about $1,500,000.

Seven of the vessels, including two steamers and five schooners, were said to have arrived from foreign shores within the last three days, most of them carrying small cargoes of about 2,500 cases, the rum skippers being loath to carry more, because of early winter storms.

A large steamer, said to be of British registry, was reported to be en route to the row with a cargo of 10,000 cases. The names and registry of the ships now lying outside the harbor were included in the report.

CRIME CARNIVAL IN CLEVELAND

19 BANDITS PARTICIPATED IN 8 HOLDUPS LAST NIGHT

(By United Press)
Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Police are searching for 19 bandits who participated in eight holdups last night. The robberies ranged from attempts to rob banks to looting soft drink parlors.

The crime wave struck the city just a few hours after Chief of Police Graul had warned his force to be on the lookout and prevent such an outbreak.

Flavored Lipsticks to Give Cosmetic Counter Soda Fountain Echo

New York, Nov. 24.—"What'll it be, ladies, strawberry, cherry, peach?"

"Make mine cherry."

"I'll take tutti frutti."

"I'll have strawberry."

No, Henry, this is not a bit of chatter from the corner soda fountain, but is an indication of what will soon be transpiring in the cosmetic department of your favorite drug store.

Yes, we're going to have flavored lipsticks. Chemists are now preparing these delicate flavors for mixture with the zinc oxide, cocoa butter and other harmless ingredients which make up the handy stick and within a short time the product will be on the market, or rather on the lips.

BIG BUCK GOES AUTOMOBILE AND DIES FROM IMPACT

(By United Press)

Hmaonton, N. J., Nov. 24.—A big buck deer gave battle to an automobile here today.

The deer attacked the machine driven by Albert Senn head first and died following the impact, which was so great that it tore the front wheel from the car.

2 BOMBS THROWN AT STRUCTURES IN SO. PHILADELPHIA

ITALIAN AND SPANISH CONSULS ESCAPE INJURY, NO ONE IN VICINITY BADLY HURT

BUILDINGS SHAKEN AND WINDOWS BROKEN FOR A RADIUS OF SIX MILES

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—The Italian and Spanish consulates in South Philadelphia were partially wrecked by two bombs early today.

The first bomb exploded on the steps of the Spanish consul's home at 701 Pine street shortly after one o'clock. The second bomb exploded at the Sons of Italy bank at Broad and Tasker streets above which the Italian consulate is located.

In the blast at the Spanish consulate, buildings were shaken and windows were broken for a radius of six miles. Many persons were hurled from their beds and others were cut and bruised by flying glass.

Police rushed to the scene. Hospital crews were summoned. Thousands of excited citizens massed around the wrecked building.

While the excitement at the Spanish consulate was at its height, the Italian consulate bomb exploded. The Italian and Spanish consuls escaped injury. No one was killed or seriously injured in the explosion. Physicians who were rushed to the scene treated a score for cuts and minor bruises.

Signor Silletti, Italian consul, was at his home when the explosion occurred at the Italian consulate. Emil DeMatta, Spanish consul was thrown from his bed, but aside from the shock, was uninjured.

ANOTHER BOMB EXPLOSION IN OHIO

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Another bomb explosion stirred northwestern Ohio today.

The blast was on the farm of Christ Heilbird, west of Bowling Green. It set fire to the Heilbird home. Neighbors a quarter of a mile away felt the concussion. No one was injured, however.

Sheriff Reitzel said the bomb may have been placed by the Toledo maniac who is held responsible for nine other blasts here in recent months.

Honeymoon Years Off, Girl Weds Him in Jail

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—Some day Harry B. Smith and his 17 year old bride are going on their honeymoon. They may have to wait years, but they are going, nevertheless. This they assured each other when they were married by Judge Aldrich Baxter in the Wayne county jail.

Smith was sentenced to serve a term of 2 1/2 years to 7 years for burglary.

"It won't be so very long," Smith assured the tearful bride. "Then we can start all over again, away from here, and be happy, just as we once planned to be."

"There is nothing to do but wait I suppose," she sighed, as the jail doors shut behind her.

WALTON ARRAIGNED IN DISTRICT COURT

(By United Press)

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Nov. 24.—J. C. Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma, will be arraigned in district court here next Wednesday upon the seven indictments charging diversion of state funds brought against him by the grand jury here. Walton appeared in district court today and asked more time to prepare his answer to the charges scheduled for today. He was granted the request.

$1,500,000 CARGOES WAIT ON RUM ROW

COASTGUARD REPORTS 11 VESSELS OFF N. J. HIGHLANDS AND LONG ISLAND

New York, Nov. 24.—Coast guard officials reported to customs authorities that 11 rum carrying ships were anchored in various spots off the highlands of New Jersey and the Long Island coast.

They estimated the combined cargoes of the vessels to be 39,000 cases with a retail bootleg value of about $1,500,000.

Seven of the vessels, including two steamers and five schooners, were said to have arrived from foreign shores within the last three days, most of them carrying small cargoes of about 2,500 cases, the rum skippers being loath to carry more, because of early winter storms.

A large steamer, said to be of British registry, was reported to be en route to the row with a cargo of 10,000 cases. The names and registry of the ships now lying outside the harbor were included in the report.

CRIME CARNIVAL IN CLEVELAND

19 BANDITS PARTICIPATED IN 8 HOLDUPS LAST NIGHT

(By United Press)
Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Police are searching for 19 bandits who participated in eight holdups last night. The robberies ranged from attempts to rob banks to looting soft drink parlors.

The crime wave struck the city just a few hours after Chief of Police Graul had warned his force to be on the lookout and prevent such an outbreak.

Flavored Lipsticks to Give Cosmetic Counter Soda Fountain Echo

New York, Nov. 24.—"What'll it be, ladies, strawberry, cherry, peach?"

"Make mine cherry."

"I'll take tutti frutti."

"I'll have strawberry."

No, Henry, this is not a bit of chatter from the corner soda fountain, but is an indication of what will soon be transpiring in the cosmetic department of your favorite drug store.

Yes, we're going to have flavored lipsticks. Chemists are now preparing these delicate flavors for mixture with the zinc oxide, cocoa butter and other harmless ingredients which make up the handy stick and within a short time the product will be on the market, or rather on the lips.

BIG BUCK GORES AUTOMOBILE AND DIES FROM IMPACT

(By United Press)

Hmanton, N. J., Nov. 24.—A big buck deer gave battle to an automobile here today.

The deer attacked the machine driven by Albert Senn head first and died following the impact, which was so great that it tore the front wheel from the car.

2 BOMBS THROWN AT STRUCTURES IN SO. PHILADELPHIA

ITALIAN AND SPANISH CONSULS ESCAPE INJURY, NO ONE IN VICINITY BADLY HURT

BUILDINGS SHAKEN AND WINDOWS BROKEN FOR A RADIUS OF SIX MILES

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Nov. 24.—The Italian and Spanish consulate, in South Philadelphia were partially wrecked by two bombs early today.

The first bomb exploded on the steps of the Spanish consul's home at 701 Pine street shortly after one o'clock. The second bomb exploded at the Sons of Italy bank at Broad and Tasker streets above which the Italian consulate is located.

In the blast at the Spanish consulate, buildings were shaken and windows were broken for a radius of six miles. Many persons were hurled from their beds and others were cut and bruised by flying glass.

Police rushed to the scene. Hospital crews were summoned. Thousands of excited citizens massed around the wrecked building.

While the excitement at the Spanish consulate was at its height, the Italian consulate bomb exploded. The Italian and Spanish consuls escaped injury. No one was killed or seriously injured in the explosion. Physicians who were rushed to the scene treated a score for cuts and minor bruises.

Signor Silletti, Italian consul, was at his home when the explosion occurred at the Italian consulate. Emil DeMatta, Spanish consul was thrown from his bed, but aside from the shock, was uninjured.

ANOTHER BOMB EXPLOSION IN OHIO

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Another bomb explosion stirred northwestern Ohio today.

The blast was on the farm of Christ Hellbird, west of Bowling Green. It set fire to the Hellbird home. Neighbors a quarter of a mile away felt the concussion. No one was injured, however.

Sheriff Reitzel said the bomb may have been placed by the Toledo maniac who is held responsible for nine other blasts here in recent months.

Honeymoon Years Off, Girl Weds Him in Jail

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 24.—Some day Harry B. Smith and his 17 year old bride are going on their honeymoon. They may have to wait years, but they are going, nevertheless. This they assured each other when they were married by Judge Aldrich Baxter in the Wayne county jail.

Smith was sentenced to serve a term of 2½ years to 7 years for burglary.

"It won't be so very long," Smith assured the tearful bride. "Then we can start all over again, away from here, and be happy, just as we once planned to be."

"There is nothing to do but wait I suppose," she sighed, as the jail doors shut behind her.

WALTON ARRAIGNED IN DISTRICT COURT

(By United Press)

Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Nov. 24.—J. C. Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma, will be arraigned in district court here next Wednesday upon the seven indictments charging diversion of state funds brought against him by the grand jury here. Walton appeared in district court today and asked more time to prepare his answer to the charges scheduled for today. He was granted the request.

FALL FESTIVAL

Held by Luther League on Thursday and Friday in Clara Lutheran Church

The Luther League of the Clara Lutheran church held a fall festival in the church parlors on Thursday and Friday evenings, the programs of both nights being decidedly successful.

On Thursday evening a concert was held, those taking part all being from the League membership. Much credit is due Mrs. A. Samuelson, who superintended the program. The individuals are to be complimented on their faithful work which showed itself in the manner in which the program was rendered.

On Friday evening the program was of a different nature. The time was spent socially. Coffee and doughnuts and waffles were served. There were candy and ice cream booths and bargain stands, and the occasion took on a truly carnival aspect.

The Luther League extends a hearty thanks to all who attended and took part in the festival. Over $500 was realized from the receipts of the two evenings' entertainments.

COMING SUNDAY--The Biggest Picture Sensation of the Year

Faster and faster whirled the merry-go-round—the merry-go-round of life in Vienna, the gayest, most colorful, most fascinating city on the face of the globe! More lavish, more riotous, more reckless was the pace of those who rode on merry-go-round, humming and spinning to the tune of love, life and luxury. Amid settings of regal splendor and majestic magnificence is portrayed the most beautiful, most powerful, the most exotic of love dramas ever told in literature or pictures!

NORTHEAST LEAGUE A CIVIC CENTER

THE Northeast Brainerd Improvement League is steadily broadening its scope. It is probable that at its inception it was merely an organization whose purpose was to attend to the improvement of Northeast Brainerd. But that day is far behind. The league is now a civic institution whose policies and programs have to do with the larger life of the city. It has ceased to be parochial and has become universal in so far as the interests of Brainerd are concerned.

The meeting next week will be attended by the members of the Lions club and the program will deal with the matter of night schools and with other worthy proposals. The league is alive to the needs of the city and has been responsible for calling the attention of the public to these needs. But it has not stopped there. More than once it has carried the proposals through the proper channels to a place where what was suggested in the meetings of the league was made concrete in the life of the city. The word "concrete" is descriptive of some of the work of the league, for it was through its efforts that the ornamental railing was placed on what is known as "the fill."

Perhaps it is because the league is composed of citizens and is not representative of special interests that it has achieved notable distinction for the work it has done. It is a community meeting whose first interests is the improvement of the section in which it meets but which recognizes that only as the city at large works for improvement will any ward of it reap the best advantage.

We have called attention to these activities on several occasions and we believe as we have said before that if such organizations were at work in each section of Brainerd, into which suggestions and recommendations as to local needs and city-wide improvements could be taken, and if these leagues came together in a joint meeting once in three months or had representation in each other's meetings, whose duty it would be to carry the recommendations from one to the other, the separate initiation followed by joint or unified action would result in many good things in the life of this city. Meetings of citizens as citizens are much more likely to serve the best ends of the city than meetings of special groups, irrespective of whom may be the personnel of these groups, irrespective of who may be the personnel of these meetings of special groups of citizens, brought together through their interest in the group to which they belong, the interest of the group will always take first place and when civic interests clash with group interests success is not as certain as where there is no clash.

FIDDLES AND FORTUNES

CHARLES P. STEINMETZ did more than most men in his lifetime. He played with electrical currents and made lightning. He explored nature's hidden forces and made possible their use. He was known as the electrical "wizard," but it was not until he died that the public learned that he went further into the problem of living and dying than any other man of his time. After his death it became known that he did not leave an estate large enough to pay the small bequests he had wished to give to his friends.

Back in the seventeenth century there was another such. His name was Antonio Stradivari and he made violins. His friends advised him to enter a more lucrative occupation, but this he refused to do, and so great was his sense of the dignity of his task that George Eliot in her poem makes him to say, "Not God himself can make Antonio Stradivari's violins without Antonio." It is not often that men are found who are ready to work for the love of their task and for the advantage of their fellows. When such men are found, their example so strongly contradicts the assumption that a man's only reward is his financial income and his only incentive his money reward, that there are many who would gladly prevent the diffusion of the knowledge that occasionally there are men who find their satisfaction in their work, their joy in life itself, and the secret of life in life's search.

Stradivari was content to stay at the task of making violins because he felt that the real satisfaction to be taken from life lay in making better violins than his fellows, and Charles P. Steinmetz drew just sufficient salary to provide for his needs because he found his satisfaction in serving his nation and his fellow men. Stradivari felt that to make a good fiddle was more rewarding than making a fortune and Charles P. Steinmetz concluded that if he could harness electricity for the benefit of the race he would realize more joy through his giving than by his getting.

These are but two cases in which men have been found to live above the level of those who claim that the only incentive to hard work and patient service is to be found in the financial gain that comes as a reward for such work and service. It is true that such men are seldom found, but the fact that they are found occasionally and that they come so near to obeying the injunction which requires that men take no thought of the morrow suggests that true wisdom may dwell with the majority and real satisfaction crown the lives of those who live not to acquire a pile of this world's wealth but to serve their age. And yet many men continue to fiddle at making fortunes, as though that were the end of life, and many others are convinced that human nature is such that the only incentive to service and duty is to be found in a money reward.

Charles P. Steinmetz proved that he was a wizard—a wizard who saw further into the meaning of life than his contemporaries. The discoveries he made will serve the race, and for the race he was ready to do his level best with the knowledge that "the ship is more than the crew." The motivation of such a life is so far above that which drives those who are out for personal gain that it belongs to another world—a world in which values are properly appraised.

BIG business has come to the place where many preachers were a long time ago, and business and the church are united in asking that America enter the world court, but just after the war if a preacher talked about any such proposal "big business" often tried to silence him. Where lies wisdom, with those who lead or those who follow?

NORTHEAST LEAGUE A CIVIC CENTER

THE Northeast Brainerd Improvement League is steadily broadening its scope. It is probable that at its inception it was merely an organization whose purpose was to attend to the improvement of Northeast Brainerd. But that day is far behind. The league is now a civic institution whose policies and programs have to do with the larger life of the city. It has ceased to be parochial and has become universal in so far as the interests of Brainerd are concerned.

The meeting next week will be attended by the members of the Lions club and the program will deal with the matter of night schools and with other worthy proposals. The league is alive to the needs of the city and has been responsible for calling the attention of the public to these needs. But it has not stopped there. More than once it has carried the proposals through the proper channels to a place where what was suggested in the meetings of the league was made concrete in the life of the city. The word "concrete" is descriptive of some of the work of the league, for it was through its efforts that the ornamental railing was placed on what is known as "the fill."

Perhaps it is because the league is composed of citizens and is not representative of special interests that it has achieved notable distinction for the work it has done. It is a community meeting whose first interests is the improvement of the section in which it meets but which recognizes that only as the city at large works for improvement will any ward of it reap the best advantage.

We have called attention to these activities on several occasions and we believe as we have said before that if such organizations were at work in each section of Brainerd, into which suggestions and recommendations as to local needs and city-wide improvements could be taken, and if these leagues came together in a joint meeting once in three months or had representation in each other's meetings, whose duty it would be to carry the recommendations from one to the other, the separate initiation followed by joint or unified action would result in many good things in the life of this city. Meetings of citizens as citizens are much more likely to serve the best ends of the city than meetings of special groups, irrespective of whom may be the personnel of these groups, irrespective of who may be the personnel of these in meetings of special groups of citizens, brought together through their interest in the group to which they belong, the interest of the group will always take first place and when civic interests clash with group interests success is not as certain as where there is no clash.

FIDDLERS AND FORTUNES

CHARLES P. STEINMETZ did more than most men in his lifetime. He played with electrical currents and made lightning. He explored nature's hidden forces and made possible their use. He was known as the electrical "wizard," but it was not until he died that the public learned that he went further into the problem of living and dying than any other man of his time. After his death it became known that he did not leave an estate large enough to pay the small bequests he had wished to give to his friends.

Back in the seventeenth century there was another such. His name was Antonio Stradivari and he made violins. His friends advised him to enter a more lucrative occupation, but this he refused to do, and so great was his sense of the dignity of his task that George Eliot in her poem makes him to say, "Not God himself can make Antonio Stradivari's violins without Antonio." It is not often that men are found who are ready to work for the love of their task and for the advantage of their fellows. When such men are found, their example so strongly contradicts the assumption that a man's only reward is his financial income and his only incentive his money reward, that there are many who would gladly prevent the diffusion of the knowledge that occasionally there are men who find their satisfaction in their work, their joy in life itself, and the secret of life in life's search.

Stradivari was content to stay at the task of making violins because he felt that the real satisfaction to be taken from life lay in making better violins than his fellows, and Charles P. Steinmetz drew just sufficient salary to provide for his needs because he found his satisfaction in serving his nation and his fellow men. Stradivari felt that to make a good fiddle was more rewarding than making a fortune and Charles P. Steinmetz concluded that if he could harness electricity for the benefit of the race he would realize more joy through his giving than by his getting.

These are but two cases in which men have been found to live above the level of those who claim that the only incentive to hard work and patient service is to be found in the financial gain that comes as a reward for such work and service. It is true that such men are seldom found, but the fact that they are found occasionally and that they come so near to obeying the injunction which requires that men take no thought of the morrow suggests that true wisdom may dwell with the majority and real satisfaction crown the lives of those who live not to acquire a pile of this world's wealth but to serve their age. And yet many men continue to fiddle at making fortunes, as though that were the end of life, and many others are convinced that human nature is such that the only incentive to service and duty is to be found in a money reward.

Charles P. Steinmetz proved that he was a wizard—a wizard who saw further into the meaning of life than his contemporaries. The discoveries he made will serve the race, and for the race he was ready to do his level best with the knowledge that "the ship is more than the crew." The motivation of such a life is so far above that which drives those who are out for personal gain that it belongs to another world—a world in which values are properly appraised.

BIG business has come to the place where many preachers were a long time ago, and business and the church are united in asking that America enter the world court, but just after the war if a preacher talked about any such proposal "big business" often tried to silence him. Where lies wisdom, with those who lead or those who follow?

TRIED TO SAW OUT OF JAIL

Attempt of Gerald Driscoll to Secure
Saws Frustrated by the Sheriff

DEFENDANT HAD USED COCAINE

Jury in Case of David Barry, Alleged Liquor Law Violator, Out
19 Hours and Fails to Agree

In district court Saturday morning Gerald Driscoll was sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence in the state prison at Stillwater, and was taken immediately to begin his sentence at hard labor.

It was brought out in examination by the court just previous to imposing sentence, that Driscoll had made an effort to obtain saws with which to cut his way to liberty while a prisoner in the county jail. The attempt was frustrated by the sheriff. It was also admitted by the defendant in this examination that he had been a user of cocaine.

The jury in the case of David Barry, charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor retired to its deliberations at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, and after being out 19 hours failed to agree and were discharged by the court.

In the case of the state against H. L. Miller, arraigned on an indictment charging possession of muskrat skins unlawfully taken, upon stipulation by and between County Attorney Walter F. Wileand and Miller's attorney, D. B. McAlpine, the indictment was amended to charge the defendant with possessing 50 muskrat skins instead of 321, which amended indictment Miller pleaded guilty.

In the case of the state against Henry Wise, arraigned on an information on November 8th, at which time he pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling liquor, withdrew that plea, and entered a plea of guilty. Wise was sentenced on Saturday morning to pay a fine of $200 and 60 days in the county jail.

Joe Brecht also changed his plea to guilty of selling liquor and was before the court for sentence, which was deferred until the return of the county attorney.

George Dubois, who pleaded guilty to a charge of selling liquor, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and serve 60 days in the county jail, as was also George Swanson, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge.

Saturday afternoon the case of Cecilia M. Baker against T. G. Johnson was tried. This is a case in which the plaintiff is suing for alleged damage to her automobile and for personal injuries which it is claimed she received when a team is said to have been frightened by Mr. Johnson's car ran away and passed the Baker car.

The jury in this case is composed of Mrs. L. Knudsen, Charles Olson, John Peterson, Mrs. C. A. Nelson, C. B. Sewell, Fred Drexler, W. F. Schwendeman, Ole Anderson, Andrew Ellingboe, Barney Taylor, Louis Favrou and Charles Mitchell. Murphy and Cokok are attorneys for Mr. Johnson and C. A. Allbright is attorney for Mrs. Baker.

3RD WEEK LECTURE COURSE

Attendance Has Been Excellent at
Gardner Hall, More Than Meeting
Expectations

The third week of the special lecture course at Gardner hall has more than met the expectation of the evangelists. The attendance has been excellent during the whole week at times the hall being well filled. On Sunday night, Nov. 25, Evangelist Anderson will give one of his most popular and helpful lectures, topic: "The Speckled Bird."

The following are the sermon topics for the week. Monday night, Nov. 26, "The Prince of Hell. Who does God allow the Devil to exist? Who made the Devil?" Tuesday night, Nov. 27, "Spiritualism Exposed. God's answer to Sir Conan Doyle on Spiritualism." Wednesday night, Nov. 28, "Man, What is man? Are the dead alive?" Thursday night, Nov. 29, "Hell, when, where, what? The doom of the ungodly. Will the wicked be tortured in hell throughout all eternity?" This question will be answered, Friday night, Nov. 30, "Babylon and her daughters. Who are they? God's call, 'Come out of her my people.'"

A spirited song service will precede each lecture. Special gospel music and stereopticon pictures will be enjoyed during the whole week.

SNOW CAME AT OPPORTUNE TIME

County Highway Engineer Murphy
Gives Data on County
Roads

ROADS IN SMOOTH SHAPE

Road Construction in This District
Came to a Close About a Week
Ago

The heavy snow of this week came at a most opportune time, so far as county roads are concerned, said County Highway Engineer, Walter M. Murphy.

This is the first time in many years that the roads have gone into the fall freeze-up in a smooth condition, says Mr. Murphy, and are in excellent shape to receive the snows. The only danger seems to lie in the event that the snow should melt quickly.

Road construction for this season was brought to a close about a week ago, and the highway machinery brought to its winter quarters in Brainerd, where it will be put in shape for next season's work.

The only construction going on at present is the new bridge across the Mississippi river five miles north of Crosby. The fill and approach has been practically completed and all of the steel work is in. With the pouring of two more concrete slabs which form the floor of the bridge, the structure will be completed. This work is held up a little on account of freezing weather, but it is expected that the bridge will be completed within the next ten days.

BRAINERD CHORAL SOCIETY NOTES

(Contribution)

The musical organization which was organized less than a month ago by Roy Theodore Brown, vocal instructor and chorus director, will be known henceforth as the "Brainerd Choral Society." Last night the society held its third rehearsal in Mr. Brown's studio, known as the Iron Exchange hall. To date the attendance has not measured up to Mr. Brown's expectations. The largest number thus far to attend any one rehearsal is twenty-two. That is less than fifty per cent of the number expected.

Mr. Brown is well aware of the fact that Rome wasn't built in a day, but he also realizes that to accomplish that whereunto he has set himself within the time available for choral study he must get busy at once with the numbers which require diligent and studious attention.

There is but one thing at present disturbing his progressive desire and that is a chorus of an insufficient number of singers. From the evening of the society's first rehearsal there has been many counter attractions on the eve of each succeeding rehearsal. That is something to always be considered in a progressive city, yet Mr. Brown is unable to see why they aren't at least fifty singers in Brainerd who have been hopefully looking forward to the day when an organization would be ushered in in which they could gleefully take refuge from some of the other demands made upon them of lesser importance to them. This is not a calamity howl. It is merely a statement of facts for interested readers.

To those who can and love to sing an opportunity of unusual features is beckoning, for not only will the chorus study some of the best things written, but at the beginning of each rehearsal Mr. Brown will spend approximately fifteen minutes in delivering a well defined lecture on some feature of voice culture. This last is worth far more than the small fee charged for membership in the organization. If you wish to have a part in such an organization, decide at once to meet with it in Mr. Brown's studio next Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

One of the exhibitors at the poultry show, which will be held in Gardner auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday, December 5th and 6th, is Mrs. S. S. Rood, living in Rabbit Lake township, in the north-eastern section of the county.

Mrs. Rood has attained exceptional success with her flock of English White Leghorns. She has kept close account of receipts and expenditures for the past year, and her books show a clear profit of $834.87 from 325 hens.

This poultry raiser is a careful business woman as well, and she has given the Dispatch a summary of her accounts for the year beginning November 1st, 1922 and ending November 1st, 1923. It contains some very interesting figures, and is as follows:

Total income for the year...$1,302.01
Total feed cost for the year 467.14

Total profit.....$ 834.87
Number of eggs sold during the year, 48,280.

Flock average, 14 1/2 eggs.
Profit from eggs per hen, $2.56 plus.

Mrs. Rood explains that the above statement covers the egg business only, and does not include poultry sales or present value of the flock.

Other poultry raisers have kept a close account of their business during the past year, and will undoubtedly exhibit their books at the coming show, as they did last year, when prizes were offered for the best and most complete set of accounts. It being the contention of the poultry association that poultry raising like any other business, must be systematically handled, and careful records kept.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU MEETING

Annual Session to be Held Tuesday
Afternoon Nov. 27 at Court
House

OVER 600 MEMBERS IN COUNTY

J. F. Reed, President of State Farm
Bureau, to be Principal
Speaker

County Agent E. G. Roth is making extensive preparations for the annual meeting of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau Association, which meets on Tuesday afternoon, November 27th in the farmers room at the court house.

There are over 600 farm bureau members in the county, and a large majority of them are planning to be present at this big meeting, which is scheduled to start promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

J. F. Reed, president of the state farm bureau, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Reed has been heard in Crow Wing county before, and has made a decided impression upon all his audiences. He spoke at the annual meeting of the farm bureau last year in Brainerd, and will receive a hearty welcome on his return at this meeting.

Among the important business matters to come before the annual meeting is the election of officers. Other subjects to be considered include land-clearing, dairying and alfalfa raising.

Notice O. E. S.

The regular meeting of Alpha Chapter, O. E. S., is scheduled for Monday evening, November 26th. There will be initiation and refreshments will be served. All members are urged to be present.

The attendance has been excellent during the whole week at times the hall being well filled. On Sunday night, Nov. 25, Evangelist Anderson will give one of his most popular and helpful lectures, topic: "The Speckled Bird."

The following are the sermon topics for the week. Monday night, Nov. 26, "The Prince of Hell. Who does God allow the Devil to exist? Who made the Devil?" Tuesday night, Nov. 27, "Spiritualism Exposed. God's answer to Sir Conan Doyle on Spiritualism." Wednesday night, Nov. 28, "Man, What is man? Are the dead alive?" Thursday night, Nov. 29, "Hell, when, where, what? The doom of the ungodly. Will the wicked be tortured in hell throughout all eternity?" This question will be answered. Friday night, Nov. 30, "Babylon and her daughters. Who are they? God's call, 'Come out of her my people.'"

A spirited song service will precede each lecture. Special gospel music and stereopticon pictures will be enjoyed during the whole week.

SNOW CAME AT OPPORTUNE TIME

County Highway Engineer Murphy Gives Data on County Roads

ROADS IN SMOOTH SHAPE

Road Construction in This District Came to a Close About a Week Ago

The heavy snow of this week came at a most opportune time, so far as county roads are concerned, said County Highway Engineer, Walter M. Murphy.

This is the first time in many years that the roads have gone into the fall freeze-up in a smooth condition, says Mr. Murphy, and are in excellent shape to receive the snows. The only danger seems to lie in the event that the snow should melt quickly.

Road construction for this season was brought to a close about a week ago, and the highway machinery brought to its winter quarters in Brainerd, where it will be put in shape for next season's work.

The only construction going on at present is the new bridge across the Mississippi river five miles north of Crosby. The fill and approach has been practically completed and all of the steel work is in. With the pouring of two more concrete slabs which form the floor of the bridge, the structure will be completed. This work is held up a little on account of freezing weather, but it is expected that the bridge will be completed within the next ten days.

BRAINERD CHORAL SOCIETY NOTES

(Contribution)
The musical organization which was organized less than a month ago by Roy Theodore Brown, vocal instructor and chorus director, will be known henceforth as the "Brainerd Choral Society." Last night the society held its third rehearsal in Mr. Brown's studio, known as the Iron Exchange hall. To date the attendance has not measured up to Mr. Brown's expectations. The largest number thus far to attend any one rehearsal is twenty-two. That is less than fifty per cent of the number expected.

Mr. Brown is well aware of the fact that Rome wasn't built in a day, but he also realizes that to accomplish that whereunto he has set himself within the time available for choral study he must get busy at once with the numbers which require diligent and studious attention.

There is but one thing at present disturbing his progressive desire and that is a chorus of an insufficient number of singers. From the evening of the society's first rehearsal there has been many counter attractions on the eve of each succeeding rehearsal. That is something to always be considered in a progressive city, yet Mr. Brown is unable to see why they aren't at least fifty singers in Brainerd who have been hopefully looking forward to the day when an organization would be ushered in in which they could gleefully take refuge from some of the other demands made upon them of lesser importance to them. This is not a calamity howl. It is merely a statement of facts for interested readers.

To those who can and love to sing an opportunity of unusual features is beckoning, for not only will the chorus study some of the best things written, but at the beginning of each rehearsal Mr. Brown will spend approximately fifteen minutes in delivering a well defined lecture on some feature of voice culture. This last is worth far more than the small fee charged for membership in the organization. If you wish to have a part in such an organization, decide at once to meet with it in Mr. Brown's studio next Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. S. S. Rood of Rabbit Lake Township Kept Record of Her Flock

IS CAREFUL BUSINESS WOMAN

Included Egg Returns Only and Did Not Take in Poultry Sales or Present Value of Flock

One of the exhibitors at the poultry show, which will be held in Gardner auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday, December 5th and 6th, is Mrs. S. S. Rood, living in Rabbit Lake township, in the northeastern section of the county.

Mrs. Rood has attained exceptional success with her flock of English White Leghorns. She has kept close account of receipts and expenditures for the past year, and her books show a clear profit of $834.87 from 325 hens.

This poultry raiser is a careful business woman as well, and she has given the Dispatch a summary of her accounts for the year beginning November 1st, 1922 and ending November 1st, 1923. It contains some very interesting figures, and is as follows:

Total income for the year...$1,302.01
Total feed cost for the year...467.14
Total profit...$ 834.87
Number of eggs laid during the year, 48,280.
Flock average, 14 1/2 eggs.
Profit from eggs per hen, $2.56 plus.

Mrs. Rood explains that the above statement covers the egg business only, and does not include poultry sales or present value of the flock. Other poultry raisers have kept a close account of their business during the past year, and will undoubtedly exhibit their books at the coming show, as they did last year, when prizes were offered for the best and most complete set of accounts, it being the contention of the poultry association that poultry raising like any other business, must be systematically handled, and careful records kept.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU MEETING

Annual Session to be Held Tuesday Afternoon Nov. 27 at Court House

OVER 600 MEMBERS IN COUNTY

J. F. Reed, President of State Farm Bureau, to be Principal Speaker

County Agent E. G. Roth is making extensive preparations for the annual meeting of the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau Association, which meets on Tuesday afternoon, November 27th in the farmers room at the court house.

There are over 600 farm bureau members in the county, and a large majority of them are planning to be present at this big meeting, which is scheduled to start promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

J. F. Reed, president of the state farm bureau, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Reed has been heard in Crow Wing county before, and has made a decided impression upon all his audience. He spoke at the annual meeting of the farm bureau last year in Brainerd, and will receive a hearty welcome on his return at this meeting.

Among the important business matters to come before the annual meeting is the election of officers. Other subjects to be considered include land-clearing, dairying and alfalfa raising.

Notice O. E. S.
The regular meeting of Alpha Chapter, O. E. S., is scheduled for Monday evening, November 26th. There will be initiation and refreshments will be served. All members are urged to be present.

Speculation

Mark Twain observed that the unfavorable months for speculation were November, December and January.

He further added that other poor months were February, March, April, May, June, July, August and September.

You are not speculating with Consolidation Elkhorn Coal or Zeigler Nut. Considering the coal question from every angle—heat, ash, clinkers, cleanliness, draft—these coals fill the bill better than any coal we have ever sold in our many years of selling.

Heed Twain's advice and place your order with us now.

HALL MUSIC HOUSE

LOOKS LIKE A HARD WINTER FOR BOXERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 24.—With Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard packed away for the winter, big boxing will have a lean season until the next outdoor boom gets booming next summer—if it does have another boom.

It has been pointed out frequently this fall that the boxers who are passing up good purses for indoor fights this winter to get a big shot outside next summer may be making a serious mistake.

Disregarding the possibility, rather remote, that boxing might be knocked out legally, there are good reasons to believe that there will not be as many places in which to stage outdoor bouts as there were around New York last summer.

It would be no surprise to see the major leagues, in the annual meetings, close the doors of their ball parks to boxing. The reasons have been thoroughly covered in previous discussions.

Other reasons to believe that ball park boxing will get a smacking from another quarter were gathered recently when William J. McCormick, the new boss of the commission, told the champions and their managers that it was not at all impossible that the commission would limit the admission price to bouts in ball parks to $5 a head.

This would be a sure knock-out blow. It is generally agreed on all sides that ball parks are anything but proper places in which to hold big championship contests.

Because timid champions are killing most of the lighter class, the lightweight and heavyweight divisions are the only ones promising any interesting activity in the near future and nothing is in prospect this winter for Dempsey or Leonard.

The heavyweight champion cannot work inside and get the cash he demands, and Leonard feels that he is too big for anything but an outdoor fight.

Leonard was booked for a fight in Tijuana the first of the year, but Jimmy Coffroth, the promoter, has been unable to get a permit from the Mexican government up to the present time and the bout seems doubtful.

Several good heavyweight bouts might be arranged among the contenders, but they all have the outdoor fever and feel that they would be making a business mistake in signing for an indoor fight.

Joe Lynch and Mickey Walker are killing interest in the bantamweight and welterweight classes by refusing to defend their titles. Lynch is losing all his friends because it is apparent that he is afraid to risk his title.

RICKARD HOPES TO GET FIRPO AND WILLS BOUT

New York, Nov. 24.—Tex Rickard has not given up plans to stage a match between Luis Firpo and Harry Wills in Buenos Aires next March or April, despite Wills' declaration that he would not fight in the Argentine, it was learned today.

Rickard said he had put the Firpo-Wills negotiations temporarily in the background to give more attention to his winter program but added that his representatives in the Argentine were keeping in close touch with the situation there. He indicated that there were several contingencies which must be overcome before the way could be cleared for Firpo and Wills to clash below the equator.

MICHIGAN'S CRIPPLED ELEVEN FACES GOPHERS

(By United Press)
Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, Nov. 25.—Michigan's crippled eleven met the onslaughts of the northernmen from Minnesota at Ferry Field here this afternoon. Three Michigan stars, Uteritz, Vandervort and Blood were on the sidelines as the unbeaten Wolverines went on the field determined to win.

FULLBACK PLAYS TWO GAMES WITH BROKEN RIB; THEN REPORTS IT

Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 24.—Fear that he would be removed from the lineup in two important football contests kept Harold O'Callaghan, regular fullback of the Stevens Institute team, from going to surgeons until today because of a pain in his chest.

The surgeons found that the pain, which he endured since his team's contest with the warriors of the U. S. S. Colorado, was a broken rib. With this defect he played with unusual ability in his team's contests with the Massachusetts Aggies and Swarthmore.

MINNEAPOLIS BOWLER HAS 704, 711 COUNTS

Minneapolis, Nov. 24.—Inscribe the name of Earl Carlson on the tablet in Minneapolis' bowling hall of fame. This star pin tumbler, pilot of the First National Colts in the Bank league, has accomplished a feat, which, according to followers of the bowling game with the longest memories, is without precedent in Minneapolis bowling records.

Carlson rolled a 711 total which follows only three weeks after a 704 count which he turned in in the same league. Available records show no other Minneapolis bowler with two 700 totals rolled in league competition in the same season.

Carlson was rolling with a team of stars last night. The 3,004 total, made without handicap, is the first to top 3,000 in the Bank league records, according to Paul Jedlicka, captain of the Colts. Harold Foster anchored the team with an even 600 total. Other members of the quint are Len Blood, Al Sienca and Paul Jedlicka.

GOPHERS CHEERED IN RED WING; LIDBERG CALLED TO PLATFORM

Red Wing, Nov. 24.—Minnesota gridiron warriors en route to the scene of battle at Ann Arbor, Mich., today, were given a rousing sendoff by hundreds of fans who met the special car here.

Led by a large band the cheering crowd insisted that Carl Lidberg, stellar fullback on the varsity squad, and a "home product" acknowledge the reception.

Martineau, "The Minnesota flash," was also compelled to make his appearance before the large assembly. Other players, the crowd was told, were safely "tucked away in bed."

FULTON KNOCKS OUT LODGE IN FIRST ROUND

Minneapolis, Nov. 24.—Fred Fulton, of this city, knocked out Farmer Lodge, St. Paul heavyweight, in the first round of their scheduled 10-round fight here last night.

The pace set by the boxers was fast, Lodge being knocked down for the count by an uppercut after two minutes and 57 seconds of hard fighting.

Eddie Morris, of Sioux City, won a newspaper decision over Charlie Long, of Omaha, after 10 rounds of fast milling in the semi-windup.

In the preliminaries Artie Schiere shaded Young Nemo, of Duluth, in a six-round session. Paul Milner and Ollie Bartlett fought a slashing four-round draw. Frank Sampson, of Minneapolis, beat Jack Cassiny, of St. Paul, and Ernie Fliegel won by a technical knockout over Young Attel when the referee stopped the bout in the second round.

ARMY AND NAVY FIGHT IN SOFT MUD

Polo Grounds, New York, Nov. 24.—It may be only a friendly war that is being waged here this afternoon as the army and navy engage in their annual football struggle, but a lot of mothers will not recognize their boys tonight.

As the Annapolis middies marching smartly behind their band went on the field for the opening of the ceremonies at 1 o'clock a fine drizzle of rain was falling. The playing field was soft and muddy from the down-pour last night and the outlook was for a sight of 22 mud smeared youths floundering about during the afternoon.

The rain, whipped by a stiff breeze, penetrated even the covered stadium, so there was a bond of sympathy between those in the fashionable dress and the men on the field.

HARVARD-YALE TIE 0-0 AT END OF FIRST QUARTER

Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 24.—The Harvard and Yale eleven meet here this afternoon in the last of the "big three" series.

Rain was beating down in torrents as the game started and the field was covered with water and ankle deep mud. Despite the terrible weather, a capacity crowd was here to see the game. Both teams practiced in rain-coats. The sky was heavy and resembled twilight. At times the ball could hardly be seen. The score at the end of the first quarter was Harvard none, Yale none.

Joe Stecher Wins

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion, won from Dan Koloff of Bulgaria, after 1 hour and 30 minutes, in a wrestling match here last night. The winning hold was a body scissors.

Covering State Lands

Notice is hereby given that up to 10 o'clock A. M. on Jan. 14th, 1924, in the State Auditor's Office, State Capitol, Saint Paul, Minnesota, under the provisions of Chapter 412, Laws 1921, I will receive sealed bids for permits to prospect for iron ore on state lands or lands in which the state has an interest, except lands situated under the waters of any public lake or river. At said hour such sealed bids will be opened and permits awarded to the highest bidders.

All applications for permits must be accompanied by certified check made payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $50.00 for each mining unit applied for and be accompanied by a sealed bid setting forth the amount of royalty per ton the applicant proposes to pay to the state in case his bid for such permit be accepted and a mineral lease issued thereunder. Such sealed bids shall also be accompanied by a certified check payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $200.00 as a guarantee that the applicant will carry out and perform in good faith all his covenants and agreements set forth in the permit. The sealed bids shall have plainly marked on the envelope containing the same the name of the applicant, the date of the application, the date received by the State Auditor and class of mineral land involved. The bids shall be made in such manner only as to clearly indicate the amount intended to be offered, but no bid shall be accepted which does not equal or exceed the minimum royalty per ton as set forth in said Chapter 412.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved to the State.

The limitations and requirements as to the purchasers of permits are as set forth in Sec. 5 and 6, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part of this notice.

The general terms and conditions of permits and mining leases are as set forth in Sections 5, 6 and 7, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

Lists of lands showing classes and arrangements of mining units, together with blanks and general information covering the subject of permits and leases, including copies of said Chapter 412, Laws 1921, may be had at the office of the State Auditor, Saint Paul, Minnesota.

LOOKS LIKE A HARD WINTER FOR BOXERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Nov. 24.—With Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard packed away for the winter, big boxing will have a lean season until the next outdoor boom gets booming next summer—if it does have another boom.

It has been pointed out frequently this fall that the boxers who are passing up good purses for indoor fights this winter to get a big shot outside next summer may be making a serious mistake.

Disregarding the possibility, rather remote, that boxing might be knocked out legally, there are good reasons to believe that there will not be as many places in which to stage outdoor bouts as there were around New York last summer.

It would be no surprise to see the major leagues, in the annual meetings, close the doors of their ball parks to boxing. The reasons have been thoroughly covered in previous discussions.

Other reasons to believe that ball park boxing will get a smacking from another quarter were gathered recently when William J. McCormick, the new boss of the commission, told the champions and their managers that it was not at all impossible that the commission would limit the admission price to bouts in ball parks to $5 a head.

This would be a sure knock-out blow.

It is generally agreed on all sides that ball parks are anything but proper places in which to hold big championship contests.

Because timid champions are killing most of the lighter class, the lightweight and heavyweight divisions are the only ones promising any interesting activity in the near future and nothing is in prospect this winter for Dempsey or Leonard.

The heavyweight champion cannot work inside and get the cash he demands, and Leonard feels that he is too big for anything but an outdoor fight.

Leonard was booked for a fight in Tijuana the first of the year, but Jimmy Coffroth, the promoter, has been unable to get a permit from the Mexican government up to the present time and the bout seems doubtful.

Several good heavyweight bouts might be arranged among the contenders, but they all have the outdoor fever and feel that they would be making a business mistake in signing for an indoor fight.

Joe Lynch and Mickey Walker are killing interest in the bantamweight and welterweight classes by refusing to defend their titles. Lynch is losing all his friends because it is apparent that he is afraid to risk his title.

RICKARD HOPES TO GET FIRPO AND WILLS BOUT

New York, Nov. 24.—Tex Rickard has not given up plans to stage a match between Luis Firpo and Harry Wills in Buenos Aires next March or April, despite Wills' declaration that he would not fight in the Argentine, it was learned today.

Rickard said he had put the Firpo-Wills negotiations temporarily in the background to give more attention to his winter program but added that his representatives in the Argentine were keeping in close touch with the situation there. He indicated that there were several contingencies which must be overcome before the way could be cleared for Firpo and Wills to clash below the equator.

MICHIGAN'S CRIPPLED ELEVEN FACES GOPHERS

(By United Press)
Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, Nov. 25.—Michigan's crippled eleven met the onslaughts of the northern team from Minnesota at Ferry Field here this afternoon. Three Michigan stars, Uteritz, Vandervort and Blood were on the sidelines as the unbent Wolverines went on the field determined to win.

Jack Hoxie at Lyceum Tonight.
"Don Quickshot of the Rio Grande," the western play starring Jack Hoxie, which opened last night at the Lyceum Theatre, is typical of the kind of screen plays that have made Hoxie such a favorite with the motion picture public.

FULLBACK PLAYS TWO GAMES WITH BROKEN RIB; THEN REPORTS IT

Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 24.—Fear that he would be removed from the lineup in two important football contests kept Harold O'Callaghan, regular fullback of the Stevens Institute team, from going to surges until today because of a pain in his chest.

The surgeons found that the pain, which he endured since his team's contest with the warriors of the U. S. S. Colorado, was a broken rib. With this defect he played with unusual ability in his team's contests with the Massachusetts Aggies and Swarthmore.

MINNEAPOLIS BOWLER HAS 704, 711 COUNTS

Minneapolis, Nov. 24.—Inscribe the name of Earl Carlson on the tablet in Minneapolis' bowling hall of fame.

This star pin tumbler, pilot of the First National Colts in the Bank league, has accomplished a feat, which, according to followers of the bowling game with the longest memories, is without precedent in Minneapolis' bowling records.

Carlson rolled a 711 total which follows only three weeks after a 704 count which he turned in in the same league. Available records show no other Minneapolis bowler with two 700 totals rolled in league competition in the same season.

Carlson was rolling with a team of stars last night. The 3,904 total, made without handicap, is the first to top 3,000 in the Bank league records, according to Paul Jedlicka, captain of the Colts. Harold Foster anchored the team with an even 600 total. Other members of the quint are Len Blood, Al Stenica and Paul Jedlicka.

GOPHERS CHEERED IN RED WING; LIDBERG CALLED TO PLATFORM

Red Wing, Nov. 24.—Minnesota gridiron warriors en route to the scene of battle at Ann Arbor, Mich., today, were given a rousing sendoff by hundreds of fans who met the special car here.

Led by a large band the cheering crowd insisted that Carl Lidberg, stellar fullback on the varsity squad, and a "home product" acknowledge the reception.

Martineau, "the Minnesota flash," was also compelled to make his appearance before the large assembly. Other players, the crowd was told, were safely "tucked away in bed."

FULTON KNOCKS OUT LODGE IN FIRST ROUND

Minneapolis, Nov. 24.—Fred Fulton, of this city, knocked out Farmer Lodge, St. Paul heavyweight, in the first round of their scheduled 10-round fight here last night.

The pace set by the boxers was fast, Lodge being knocked down for the count by an uppercut after two minutes and 57 seconds of hard fighting. Eddie Morris, of Sioux City, won a newspaper decision over Charlie Long, of Omaha, after 10 rounds of fast milling in the semi-windup.

In the preliminaries Artie Schiere shaded Young Nemo, of Duluth, in a six-round session. Paul Milner and Ollie Bartlett fought a slashing four-round draw. Frank Sampson, of Minneapolis, beat Jack Cassini, of St. Paul, and Ernie Fliegel won by a technical knockout over Young Atel when the referee stopped the bout in the second round.

5 BANDITS GET $700 PAYROLL

(By United Press)
Newark, N. J., Nov. 24.—Five armed bandits today escaped with a payroll containing $7,000 after holding up three messengers of the Hilton company in an alley on the west side of the company's plant here.

ARMY AND NAVY FIGHT IN SOFT MUD

Polo Grounds, New York, Nov. 24.—It may be only a friendly war that is being waged here this afternoon as the army and navy engage in their annual football struggle, but a lot of mothers will not recognize their boys tonight.

As the Annapolis middies marching smartly behind their band went on the field for the opening of the ceremonies at 1 o'clock a fine drizzle of rain was falling. The playing field was soft and muddy from the down-pour last night and the outlook was for a sight of 22 mud smeared youths floundering about during the afternoon.

The rain, whipped by a stiff breeze, penetrated even the covered stadium, so there was a bond of sympathy between those in the fashionable dress and the men on the field.

HARVARD-YALE TIE 0-0 AT END OF FIRST QUARTER

Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 24.—The Harvard and Yale eleven meet here this afternoon in the last of the "big three" series.

Rain was beating down in torrents as the game started and the field was covered with water and ankle deep mud. Despite the terrible weather, a capacity crowd was here to see the game. Both teams practiced in raincoats. The sky was heavy and resembled twilight. At times the ball could hardly be seen. The score at the end of the first quarter was Harvard none, Yale none.

Joe Stecher Wins

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion, won from Dan Koloff of Bulgaria, after 1 hour and 30 minutes, in a wrestling match here last night. The winning hold was a body scissors.

SALE OF IRON ORE PROSPECTING PERMITS

Covering State Lands

Notice is hereby given that up to 10 o'clock A. M. on Jan. 15, 1924, in the State Auditor's Office, State Capitol, Saint Paul, Minnesota, under the provisions of Chapter 412, Laws 1921, I will receive sealed bids for permits to prospect for iron ore on state lands or lands in which the state has an interest, except lands situated under the waters of any public lake or river. At said hour such sealed bids will be opened and permits awarded to the highest bidder.

All applications for permits must be accompanied by certified check made payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $50.00 for each mining unit applied for and be accompanied by a sealed bid setting forth the amount of royalty per ton the applicant proposes to pay to the state in case his bid for such permit be accepted and a mineral lease issued thereunder. Such sealed bids shall also be accompanied by a certified check payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $200.00 as a guarantee that the applicant will carry out and perform in good faith all his covenants and agreements set forth in the permit. The sealed bids shall have plainly marked on the envelope containing the same the name of the applicant, the date of the application, the date received by the State Auditor and class of mineral land involved. The bids shall be made in such manner only as to clearly indicate the amount intended to be offered, but no bid shall be accepted which does not equal or exceed the minimum royalty per ton as set forth in said Chapter 412.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved to the State.

The limitations and requirements as to the purchasers of permits are as set forth in Sec. 5 and 6, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part of this notice.

The general terms and conditions of permits and mining leases are as set forth in Sections 5, 6 and 7, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

Lists of lands showing classes and arrangements of mining units, together with blanks and general information covering the subject of permits and leases, including copies of said Chapter 412, Laws 1921, may be had at the office of the State Auditor, Saint Paul, Minnesota.
